The myth of the Best Dog Food

No two dogs are exactly the same—even those that come from the same litter. And when you consider the differences between dog breeds, you discover that dogs are one of the most diverse species on earth.

So when dog owners ask Mud Bay staff, "What's the best dog food?", we have to tell them it's a question we can't answer—because it's the wrong question. The question we can help them answer is, "What's the best food to feed my particular dog?" Every dog is a unique individual with unique nutritional needs. When we're helping owners choose foods, we can almost always find a healthy diet that's a great fit.

We hope you stop by one of our stores. We'd love to hear about your dog and help you identify the natural foods that make the most sense for him or her.

AKC Dog Clubs In Washington

There are nearly 5000 dog clubs in the United States that hold affiliated events under the umbrella of the AKC for competition by AKC registered dogs. Some are national parent clubs, others local specialty clubs, and still others are devoted to a broad variety of events from agility to obedience and tracking, from field trials to lure coursing and herding tests and trials. Many clubs meet monthly, others bi-monthly, and yet others more infrequently. All were formed by a diverse group of dog lovers who share the common interest of raising, training, breeding and competing with purebred dogs. These clubs not only further the sport of purebred dogs, but also many strive to promote and protect dogs in their communities, share in educational programs, sponsor training classes and health clinics, and operate a rescue network, as well as responsible breeder locator service.

How to Approach a Dog

*Remember these steps
when meeting and greeting a dog:*

Always walk slowly and quietly to the dog's owner to ask if you can pet the dog.

If the owner says "yes," curl your hand into a closed fist with the back of your hand facing upward. Extend your hand slowly to the dog.

Allow the dog to sniff the back of your hand. We recognize people on sight; dogs recognize people by scent. Dogs sniff people to learn their scent.

After the dog has sniffed your hand and has become familiar with you, pet it gently under the chin or on the chest.

Respect a dog's space. Do not stick your face into a dog's face or poke or prod at a dog with your hands; this may make a dog feel afraid.

TAKE YOUR HOUND TO THE HEAD OF THE CLASS

- 🎓 Is your dog well behaved around people and other dogs?
- 🎓 Does he respond to basic commands such as sit and stay?
- 🎓 Does he allow himself to be petted with ease?
- 🎓 Does he walk nicely on a leash?

The AKC Canine Good Citizen® (CGC) certificate program is a 10-step test designed to assess canine good manners at home and in the community. Being a Canine Good Citizen will make your dog a well-respected canine, and make you a responsible dog owner. Age doesn't matter, for a dog is never too old to learn good canine manners.

SO YOU WANT A DOG?

FIRST FIND A BREEDER YOU TRUST.

Before bringing home that cuddly new puppy, find a responsible breeder who is knowledgeable, experienced and works to improve the breed. He or she should encourage you to visit their home to see the puppies and ask questions to learn more about the breed. They'll also provide you with the appropriate AKC papers so you can confirm your puppy's parentage.

Chances are, you'll be living with your puppy for more than a decade so choose a breeder who will ensure that you get the happy, healthy, wonderful puppy you want and deserve.

To find a responsible breeder, visit www.akc.org.

AKC EVENTS IN BRIEF

When you register your dog with AKC, you can participate in...

AGILITY - Agility blends training and athletic ability, creating challenge and excitement for every breed. Dogs demonstrate their ability to negotiate a complex course that includes climbing an Aframe, jumping through hoops, running through tunnels and pausing on command. Competing in agility requires proper training, as it is a game of physical skill, control, patience and, most of all, teamwork between a handler and dog.

OBEDIENCE - Obedience trials promote better canine-human companionship by encouraging basic good behavior in dogs. Obedience competitions test a dog's ability to perform a prescribed set of exercises. Competing in obedience requires preparation, as it is a game of control, patience and teamwork between a handler and dog.

RALLY® - Rally is a sport in which the dog and handler complete a course that has been designed by the rally judge. The judge tells the handler to begin, and the dog and handler proceed at their own pace through a course of designated stations (10 - 20, depending on the level). Each of these stations has a sign providing instructions regarding the next skill that is to be performed. Scoring is not as rigorous as traditional obedience.

DOG SHOWS - Dog shows celebrate and help preserve the distinctive features of different breeds and provide a forum in which dogs are evaluated for future breeding programs. Handlers enter the show ring with their dogs so judges can evaluate the dogs' conformation, or how closely their physical structure conforms to their particular breeds' standards (detailed descriptions of each breed).

(JUNIOR SHOWMANSHIP) Junior Showmanship offers children between the ages of 10 and 18 years of age an opportunity to develop their handling skills, learn about good sportsmanship and learn about dogs and dog shows. Juniors are judged on their ability to present, or handle, their dogs as they would in the breed ring. Juniors may also gain recognition in performance and field events such as obedience, agility, earthdog and lure coursing.

FIELD TRIALS - Field trials offer practical demonstrations of a dog's ability to perform in the field the functions for which it was bred. Field events are open to pointing breeds, retrievers, spaniels, Beagles, Basset Hounds and Dachshunds. Events vary according to breeds' functions, but in each case, dogs compete against each other for placements and points toward their championships.

HUNTING TESTS - Hunting tests evaluate a dog's hunting abilities on different elements of pointing, retrieving or flushing. The dog's ability to perform is judged against a standard of perfection established by the AKC regulations.

EARTHDOG - Smaller terriers and Dachshunds, which were originally bred to go into dens and tunnels in pursuit of rats, badgers and other quarry, participate in earthdog tests. The tests give dogs an opportunity to display their ability to follow game and "work" by barking, digging and/or scratching the quarry (game).

TRACKING - Tracking tests, open to all breeds, evaluate a dog's ability to follow a trail by scent. The dog must find and indicate articles left on the track by a track layer. The handler must show all articles to the judges at the end of the track. Some of the most difficult tests challenge a dog to follow human scent across various surfaces and through changing conditions.

COONHOUND EVENTS - Coonhound events include bench shows, field trials, nite hunts and water races. At a bench show, dogs are put on benches to be judged for their conformation; then the dogs are taken around the ring at a trot to be judged on their movement. The other events test the dog's ability to follow the scent of a raccoon to the tree where it's hiding and to signal their owners that the quarry is treed.

HERDING - Herding tests and trials demonstrate a dog's ability to herd sheep, cattle, goats or ducks under the direction of a handler.

BEWARE OF INTERNET PUPPY SCAMS!

The American Kennel Club® and the Council of Better Business Bureaus have teamed up to warn consumers about Internet scams involving purebred puppies. Don't get scammed!

- Beware of anyone who seems overly concerned with getting paid and who requests money be wired overseas
- Be wary of heart-wrenching tales or web sites containing pictures that most likely have been lifted from the web sites of legitimate breeders
- Do your research. Find a responsible breeder through the AKC® breeder referral link at www.akc.org
- If you have been scammed, report it to your local authorities and your local BBB (www.bbb.org)

Dog Show Etiquette

Dogs shows are fun and exciting!
You might feel like petting all the dogs, but wait!
Keep these things in mind as you walk around and enjoy the show.

Great Dane CC Photography

-  Always ask before you pet a dog. The handlers (people showing dogs) spent a lot of time and energy grooming their dogs for the show. Never go up and just pet a dog. Ask first.
-  Wait until handlers have finished an event before asking questions. Before the show, they are focusing on their dog and getting ready for their turn in the ring. Always ask permission before petting a dog!
-  Turn off your cell phone. It is a distraction to the dogs and handlers.
-  Stay away from ring entrances. It is very difficult for handlers to get in and out of the rings when people are in the way of the entrance.
-  Do not lean over the rings or talk to handlers when they are in the ring showing.
-  Do you have small children with you? Don't let them run up to dogs or stick their fingers and hands into crates or exercise pens. Also, it's best to leave strollers in the car. Strollers can place a child's face at the same level as unfamiliar dogs' faces. Plus, a stroller can accidentally run over lots of dogs' tails.
-  Be careful where you step so you don't step on feet, noses or tails!
-  Keep food away from the ring. It is a distraction to the dogs.
-  Leave your own dog at home unless you are taking them for a special reason, such as a CGC® test.

BOEING K-9 PROGRAM:

The Boeing Company's K-9 Program consists of more than eight K-9 teams, one trainer, a kennel master and a team of highly trained explosive Detection Dogs deployed at various sites throughout the enterprise to provide its employees, contractors and visitors a safe work environment. Boeing currently has K-9 units working in the State of Washington, Southern California, Wichita, Kansas, North Charleston, South Carolina, and Chicago, Ill. This program, which grew out of Boeing's need for enhanced security in the aftermath of 9/11, was established in November 2001. K-9 members of the Explosive Detection Dog program work with Boeing Security to identify and alert on suspicious material and are trained to detect over 17,000 different explosive based chemicals and compounds. Boeing's explosive detection dogs have been on the job at shareholders meetings, customer product delivery events, on the field and flight lines during flight tests, and at major employee forums held at Boeing facilities.

Selecting a K-9 requires that the dog and handler are the right fit for the job. Today's K-9s are often recruited from rescue shelters or from other service dog training programs. The dogs are tested out to see if being an explosive detection dog is the right skill match. If they pass the test, they go into training and certification. Each K-9 and handler are certified together as a team once a year.

The dogs become part of the handler's family, as the handler is responsible for his or her dog 24 hours a day.

Typically, these dogs, often Labradors, German Shepherds, Belgian Malinois and even mixed breeds, have tenure of six to eight years in the program. When they retire from active duty the dogs often remain part of their handler's family.

In addition to their work keeping people, products and property safe, Boeing's K-9 teams actively participate in the community as goodwill ambassadors. Members of the K-9 unit make themselves available for demonstrations, safety fairs and other public events.

Boeing is the world's leading aerospace company and the largest manufacturer of commercial jetliners and military aircraft combined.

EMERALD CITY K-9 FREESTYLE DANCERS:

Musical freestyle Canine Dancing is a relatively new sport that combines dog obedience and dance in a way that is totally unique and exciting. It blends dog obedience and dance presenting a visually exciting display of handler and canine teamwork. The handler and dog perform dance-oriented footwork in time to the music.

K9 NOSE WORK DEMONSTRATION TEAM

See a demonstration of the newest and fastest growing dog sport for the very first time at the Seattle Kennel Club Dog Show. This exciting and inclusive detection-style activity is appropriate for dogs of any age, breed, size, or physical ability and handlers of all ages and abilities.

K9 Nose Work has been featured in the August 2009 issue of The Whole Dog Journal, the June 2010 issue of Bark Magazine, the November/December 2010 issue of The APDT Chronicle – the Seattle Kennel Club website <http://www.seattlekennelclub.org/i-get-it-and-it-all-makes-scents/> The Seattle Times http://o.seattletimes.nwsouce.com/html/localnews/2012881334\_nosework13m.html – as well as having been presented at national professional dog training conferences.

The sport of K9 Nose Work was first developed in 2008 by a retired police K9 trainer and two of his cohorts. Some of the many benefits include deepening the owner/dog relationship while expending the dogs' excess energy, and putting their minds to work in a sport that can be taught and practiced indoors with minimal needs for equipment (recycled cardboard boxes) and space. Dogs leave class happy and tired while their owners leave amazed at what the dogs can do.

K9 Nose Work provides an energetic and focused outlet for any dog. The sport also brings special benefits for dogs with issues such as lack of confidence or focus, overly reactive around other dogs and/or people, dogs convalescing from medical issues, generalized social or situational anxiety preventing them from joining a typical group training class, hearing or sight impairments, and retired conformation, competition, service, or working dogs in need of a 'job' to keep them busy and happy. K9 Nose Work has been shown to improve dogs' performance in other dog sports.

In September 2009 Miriam Rose first brought K9 Nose work to Washington State. As Washington's first Certified Nose Work Instructor (and a professional K9 detection trainer/handler), she offers weekly classes at numerous conveniently located regional training centers in Western Washington. Four levels of classes keep owners and dogs progressing at each team's individual pace. Exciting Northwest and national competitions have already been held and more are in the planning stages. Come and join the fun with your dog!

R2AGILITY, INTRODUCTION TO AGILITY

Agility is the ultimate game for you and your dog. It is also one of the most exciting canine sports for spectators. In agility, a dog demonstrates its agile nature and versatility by following cues from the handler through a timed obstacle course.

The course has jumps, tunnels, weave poles, and other obstacles. Agility strengthens the bond between dogs and handlers, it is extremely fun, and it provides vigorous exercise for both!

READING WITH ROVER

"Is My Dog a Therapy Dog?" Let's find out!

Becky Bishop, Executive Director of Reading with Rover and lead dog trainer for Puppy Manners will explain and demonstrate the Reading With Rover D.R.E.A.M. Dog Therapy test. (Dogs for Reading Education and More) The Reading with Rover therapy dog program has been chosen many times over as Seattle's Favorite therapy dog program. All things pet therapy will be discussed such as the difference between a therapy dog and a service dog. Also the protocol for Reading with Rover and the needs for good community service dogs.

For over a decade Becky Bishop, owner of Puppy Manners and executive Director for Reading with Rover has been leading the way for the family dog and breaking new ground in the world of pet therapy. Becky and her D.R.E.A.M. teams have been featured on CNN, Animal Planet, King5 Evening Magazine, and Reading with Rover has been a featured story on many news media stations. Most recently Reading with Rover was a featured article in Ladies Home Journal. The story is about a rescued St. Bernard Hank that was adopted and is now a valuable team member for Reading with Rover working with autistic children. According to Bishop "These dogs create a safe environment for children who often live in an unsafe world. It gives them a sense of normal and the dogs keep them calm." Discover what you will need to know so you and your dog can journey onto be a volunteer team in the world of pet therapy. Warning: Becky's passion for the RWR program is contagious, be prepared to want to take this journey with your dog once you realize you have been living with a therapy dog all along!

Becky's company Puppy Manners has won many awards for "Best Dog Training" and most recently received "Best of 425" my 425 Magazine and was named "Best" by Seattle Magazine as well.

SEATTLE POLICE DEPT. CANINE UNIT

For the past 42 years, highly trained Seattle Police canines have been patrolling the streets of your city on a nightly basis. Our Generalist Patrol Dogs have located thousands of criminals that would have otherwise gotten away. Our Narcotics Detection Dog teams have helped take millions of dollars worth of drugs of the streets and have seized millions of dollars in illegally obtained property. Since being provided by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, our Explosives Detection Dogs have instilled peace of mind and helped make the region safer. All of our current patrol canines have been purchased by private donations through the Seattle Police Foundation. When our dogs reach retirement age they live out the rest of their lives with their officer-handlers. As K9 senior citizens, most require veterinary care for injuries or wear-and-tear received while serving your community.

Since the Seattle Police Department no longer pays for that care, members of the Canine Unit formed a non-profit corporation to collect monies to pay for these medical costs. Since 2001, the Retired Seattle Police Canine Fund has paid more than $15,000 in veterinary costs.
